COAHOMA COMMUNITY COLLEGE

VOLUME 49

Dr. Vivian M. Presley

Dr. Vivian Mathews Presley became the fourth president of Coahoma Community July 1, 1992 making her the first and only female state community/junior college president in Mississippi. The institution has enjoyed growth in enrollment, recognition for academic excellence and a continuous improvement in services and management through technological advancement campus wide.

Through Dr. Presley's efforts, a bill was introduced and passed by the Mississippi Legislature and signed by the Governor giving Coahoma Community College a district in the spring of 1995. Effective July 1, 1995, the Coahoma Community College district became Bolivar, Coahoma, Quitman, Tallahatchie and Tunica Counties.

Under Dr. Presley's leadership, the campus has grown from 24 buildings on a 99 acre plot of land to a beautiful campus that has seen construction of an assembly building, The Pinnacle; a presidential residence; a new men's dormitory, a multi-complex building, a field house, an off campus health sciences complex; a baseball facility; and a new administration building appropriately named The Vivian M. Presley Administration Building.

She has been rewarded for her leadership efforts at the institution and in the community. Some of her many accolades include: 1995 Employer of the Year by the Business and Professional Women's Organization; 2000 Image Award in Education; 2002 Alumnus of the Year for the College of Education, Mississippi State University; Community college representative for an Education/Training Study Tour in Germany; Dr. Jane Sargent Leadership Award, Mississippi State University; Paul Harris Award, Clarksdale Rotary Club; Kinard and Myles Black History Award; 2007 Citizen of the Year, Clarksdale Chamber of Commerce and the National Recognition Award by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

Effective June 30, 2013, Dr. Presley will retire from Coahoma Community College after many years of tireless and unselfish service. Her caring spirit, competent leadership and infectious smile will be missed by all. The 2013 Coahoma yearbook staff is proud to dedicate this edition of the Coahoman to Dr. Vivian M. Presley. We feel the poem below is a fitting tribute for a job well done.

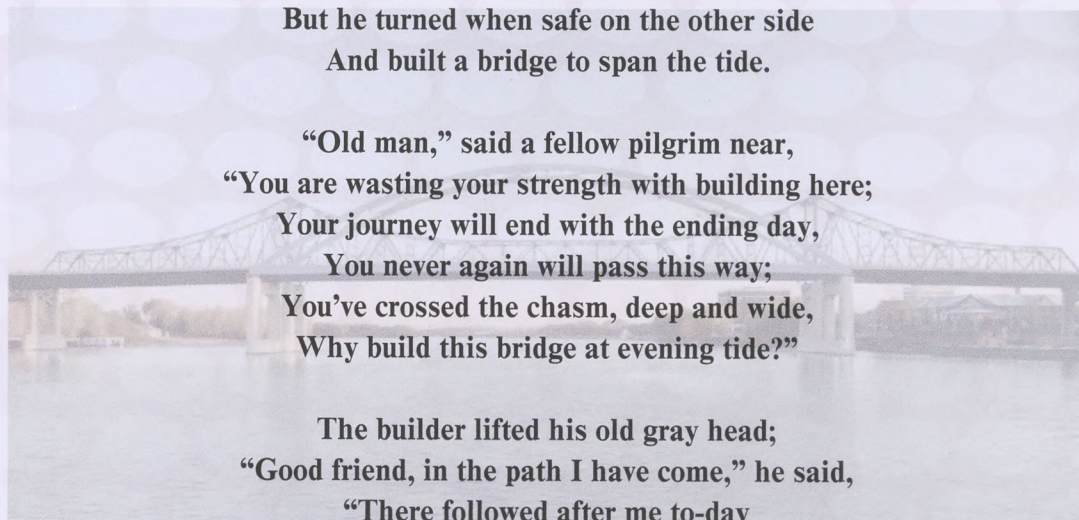

The Bridge Builder

By Will Allen Dromgoole 1860-1934

An old man going a lone highway,
Came, at the evening cold and gray,
To a chasm vast and deep and wide.
Through which was flowing a sullen tide
The old man crossed in the twilight dim,
The sullen stream had no fear for him;
But he turned when safe on the other side
And built a bridge to span the tide.

"Old man," said a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your strength with building here;
Your journey will end with the ending day,
You never again will pass this way;
You've crossed the chasm, deep and wide,
Why build this bridge at evening tide?"

The builder lifted his old gray head;
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said,
"There followed after me to-day
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This chasm that has been as naught to me
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be;
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim;
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him!"

Graduation 2012

Darrell Dixon Jr.

The largest graduating class in the history of Coahoma Community College: 425 candidates were cheered before a standing room only crowd of 5,000 spilling into the Pinnacle's foyer facing Frairs Point Road.

Delivering the commencement address, CCC alumnus and Class of 2008 salutatorian Darrell Dixon Jr., who is legislative aide to U.S. Senator Thad Cochran in Washington, said he related to 2012 graduates.

"I sat where you are sitting and remember the words of the Supreme Court Justice (James E. Graves Jr.) speaking at my own graduation," he said.

"My own story is a Coahoma story; my family is tied to the heritage of this institution," said the speaker who served as president of Coahoma's Student Government Association, was active in many campus organizations, and was featured in USA Today as one of the top 50 community college students in America before earning an honors degree from Delta State University.

Dixon said when he was invited to speak at graduation, he asked his aunt what he should speak about.

"She replied, 'About 10 minutes,'" he quipped and followed her advice.

Praising grads for not letting adversities stop them from today's celebration, Dixon said, "There is no good story without pain."

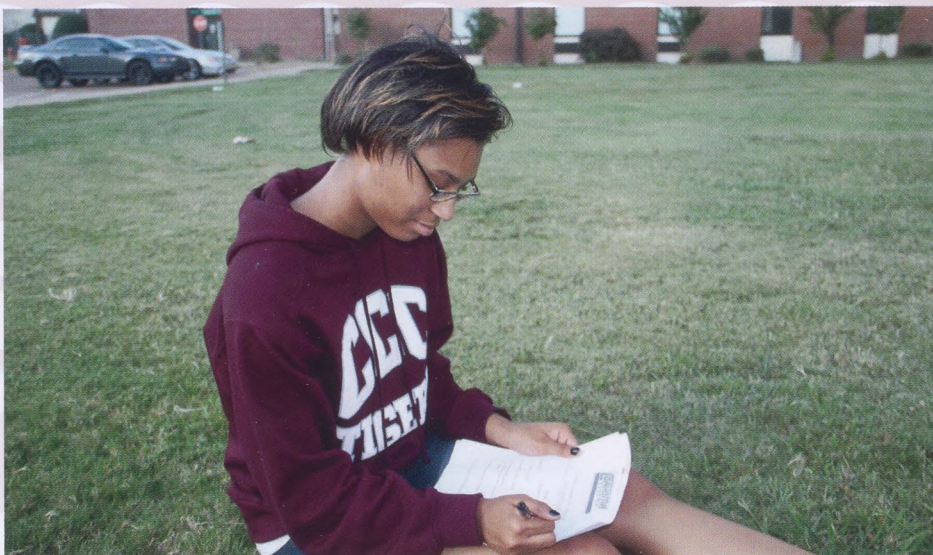

"Who was David without Goliath? Christ without the Cross? he asked.

Dixon urged students to continue going forward, to accept challenges as a measure of success.

"Don't put your life on hold," he said. "Take time to dream your biggest dreams; you will always miss 100 percent of the shots you don't take," he said.

"Do all you can with all you can while you can," he said. "Expand your horizons, and If you fall on your back, you can look up, get up, and follow your dreams."

Mathews said, "Veterans across America have earned our utmost gratitude."

"Americans have always answered the call to duty," she said. "The debts that you paid have not been forgotten; you fought for me when I was too scared to fight; you did not even know me, but laid down your life to protect me."

"I am a small speck in a sea of men and women – representing all veterans and especially local veterans," he said. "Many have undiagnosed illness and need help; many are unemployed or underemployed," he said. "I ask you not to turn your back, but to charge forward; these are our sons and daughters – they are our kinfolk, and we have a moral obligation to help."

"We must not just give lip service," continued Mathews who now serves as director of Quitman County Emergency Management. "Love is an action word; let's do something for our veterans."

I live by these words.

Galatians 2:20 I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who lives, but Christ who lives within me. And the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me.

Who's Who

Among Students In American Universities & Colleges

They were honored along with other elite students from colleges and universities across the United States and several foreign nations.

African Children's Choir

Waiting to board their Coahoma County School bus, two youngsters from Sherard Elementary pronounced the African Children's Choir "awesome" in no uncertain terms.

Earlier, 1,500 additional students from Charleston in East Tallahatchie to Quitman County Elementary in Marks, and schools across north Mississippi and Arkansas packed Clarksdale's Civic Auditorium and thundered their applause in praise of the 8 and 9-year-old performers. Clad in sandals with bright orange and brown costumes - girls in headbands and dresses and boys in brilliant shirts over brown pants, the Grammy-nominated choir captivated the audience with brilliant smiles, bell clear harmony, and infectious non-stop motion to African drumming.

"He's got the whole world in his hands" and "This Little Light of Mine" were among concert favorites.

Several adult graduates of the choir that was founded in 1984 to support orphans in war-torn and AIDS-stricken Africa, described how the organization had influenced their lives, education, present careers, and their continued mission. The free matinee concert for students and a 7 p.m. performance - also free for the general public, were presented by the Lyceum Series of Coahoma Community College and the Mississippi Festival.

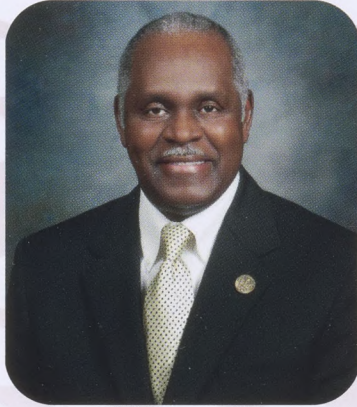

With arms uplifted, the African Children's Choir, accepts thundering applause inside the Clarksdale Civic Auditorium from more than 1,500 students from North Mississippi and Arkansas.

Humanities Teacher 2012

With degrees in art education, art therapy, and fine arts, Wilcox believes the arts develop the “whole person” and is not just for students.

She loves it all - painting, watercolor, and sculpture, the graphic arts, photography, videography, and music.

“I work our students hard, but they give it back,” she says.

With interests extending beyond the classroom, Wilcox has organized an Art Club and plans to take students to Paris.

She also is the owner of a downtown gallery: Sun House Studios that is packed with hundreds of brilliant paintings and a stage surrounded by tables and chairs for musical performances during festivals and special occasions.

CCC Singers Selected for 105 Voices of History National Choir

Kelvin Towers, Director of Choral Activities, Quintarus Gardner and Tierra Washington of Clarksdale

CCC sophomores: Tierra Washington and Quintarus Gardner, both of Clarksdale, performed at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville during the Fall Semester of 2012. "The criteria for selection was extremely tough this year," says Kelvin Towers, director of CCC's choral music department. "Most of the students auditioning were voice majors, and most schools are represented by only one singer," he continued with a smile. "It's unusual to have two selected."

Deciding to become a Coahoman Yearbook staff member was one of my best decisions. Working on the Coahoman Yearbook has been a very experimental journey. I had the opportunity to travel to New Orleans where I attended the National College Yearbook Conference. The workshop is one that I will never forget. It was a life learning experience. We were divided into group sessions. My session was titled "Principles of Design," which included balance, emphasis, rhythm and unity. After returning to the college, I put all the material and information to use in creating our Coahoman Yearbook together. The experience will last a life time. Thank you Mrs. Yvonne M. Stanford and Mrs. Mary L. Caradine our advisers.

Jimonica

I was privileged to attend the Annual Yearbook Conference. At the conference, I enrolled in the "Basic Design and Layout" course under the instructions of Mr. Bruno Ruggiero, who is the director at the University Printing & Design Services at Nicholls University in Thibodaux, LA. I learned to effectively use white space by not cluttering pages, but to use color and other interesting concepts to draw the audience's attention because they are the ones we have to appeal to. I advise future students to become a member of the Coahoman Yearbook staff because it will teach you responsibility and dependability skills that are relevant for life. I also experimented with my creative side which I have come to know. I would like to thank our advisers, Mrs. Yvonne M. Stanford and Mrs. Mary L. Caradine for giving me the opportunity to be a part of this edifying organization.

Lamb's Photography of Clarksdale, MS photographed all class, faculty, and club photos. Candid shots were taken by Webmaster Ezra Howard and Yearbook staff. Panny Mayfield, Director of Public Relations, also assisted with pictures and copy.

The cover is Frontier Maroon with black silkscreen and silver foil applications. The endsheet design is blind embossed on Rainbow Gray Felt materials.

Typesetting and page production were completed using Balfour's StudioWorks online software and Microsoft Word on Gateway and Dell computers. Hudson, Olympia-Heavy and Times New Roman fonts were used throughout the book.

Coahoma Community College
Office of the President
November 8, 2012

Dear Coahoma Community College and
Coahoma Agricultural High School Family:

How blessed and grateful I am! I can think of no greater service or honor than to have been affiliated with two phenomenal institutions, Coahoma Community College and Coahoma Agricultural High School for 37 years – 21 of them serving as president and superintendent.

Realizing that there is a culmination to every process, I am reminded of the scripture that is found in Ecclesiastes which asserts “To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven.” Therefore it is with a spirit of joy, gratitude, humbleness, love and yes, a touch of sadness; I announce my retirement date, June 30, 2013.

It has been magnificent and wonderful 37-year tenure. I am pleased to say that as we, a dedicated team of board members, administrators, faculty, and staff, have diligently worked to provide quality education and training for our students and community.

The mission of our institution to serve has always and continues to be an honorable and noble one.

I have been privileged to work with most supportive and committed Board of Trustees, who has given me unparalleled freedom to guide these institutions over the years. To you, I am grateful.

I am blessed to have a wonderful and dedicated team of administrators, faculty and staff who have dedicated their lives to educating our students and the community we serve. To all of you, I am grateful.

I am grateful for our students, and I wish them much success and prosperity.

I pray God’s love and peace be with you, this institution, state, and nation.

Respectfully yours,

Vivian Mathews Presley Vivian M. Presley
